CMG OPPORTUNISTIC ALL ASSET STRATEGY

October was a positive month for global equities. The Consumer Confidence Index was up over 125% in October, reaching its highest level since December 2000. This increase is indicative of an exceptionally strong jobs market. In addition, consumer spending was up 1% for the month, reaching its highest level in 8 years. This increase was primarily driven by residents of hurricane ravaged Florida and Texas replacing flood-damaged automobiles and homes. Internationally the ECB announced plans to extend the EU’s quantitative easing program. Within the CMG Opportunistic All Asset Strategy, exposure to international developed, financials, consumer discretionary, materials stocks and gold buoyed portfolio performance for the month while exposure to Latin America and small cap growth stocks detracted from performance. During the month, the portfolio increased allocations to U.S. broad markets, consumer discretionary, materials and India stocks away from financials, international, Latin America stocks and gold. Changes in the portfolio from the prior month-end are highlighted below.

CMG Opportunistic All Asset Strategy Disclosure:

CMG Capital Management Group, Inc. ("CMG") is an SEC registered investment adviser located in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. CMG serves as a signal provider or model provider or overlay manager or sub-advisor on various independent custodial platforms. PLEASE NOTE: CMG's investment management services may be obtained on custodial platforms via an unaffiliated third party solicitor, investment advisor or registered representative of a broker/dealer who will charge a separate fee from CMG. In some cases the total fee charged to the client (CMG's fee and solicitor/advisor/registered representative fee) may be less than a client would otherwise pay if they directly engaged CMG's investment management services.

In the event that there has been a change in a client's investment objectives or financial situation, he/she/it is encouraged to advise CMG immediately. Different types of investments and/or investment strategies involve varying levels of risk, and there can be no assurance that any specific investment or investment strategy (including the investment strategies devised or undertaken by CMG) will be profitable for a client's or prospective client's portfolio. All performance results have been compiled solely by CMG and have not been independently verified. Information pertaining to CMG's advisory operations, services, and fees is set forth in CMG's current disclosure statement, a copy of which is available from CMG upon request (or on CMG's website, www.cmgwealth.com/disclosures/advs).

The CMG Opportunistic All Asset Strategy primarily invests in security indexes and shares of exchange traded funds ("ETFs"), which can represent long, short, levered long or levered short positions in general asset classes of both U.S. and overseas equity markets. The underlying investments involve heightened risks related to liquidity, increased volatility and unfavorable fluctuations in currency values. The underlying fixed income, bond, international, commodity and real estate investments will also be subject to economic or political instability in the U.S. and other countries, credit risk and interest rate fluctuations. An ETF is a security that tracks an index, a commodity or a basket of assets like an index fund, but trades like a stock on an exchange. CMG reserves the right to trade mutual funds and / or other ETFs. Information pertaining to any ETF or mutual fund that is a current component of the CMG Opportunistic All Asset Strategy is set forth in each respective ETF's or mutual fund's prospectus, a copy of which is also available from CMG (or on CMG's website, www.cmgwealth.com).
